Hi Team Equishastra I simply wanted to appreciate you for your lessons and advice, which gave me the knowledge and confidence I needed to make stock market investments. The most beneficial and best lesson I ever learned was to adopt a "change in mindset," which is to purchase rising stocks instead of falling stocks in order to obtain them at a cheaper price. The finest lesson I learned further was about risk management since it is making it easier for me to take calculated risks while investing. I started the journey by using all my lessons with a small corpus helping me outperform the index. Will surely continue to do so.

-Vinit Patel, Kalyan

The course was very informative. It taught me how money moves in the financial markets and how the economy works as a whole. I was always interested in finance, but after taking this course, I have become a finance nerd. There has not been a single day where I have woken up and not looked at the markets. The course helped me understand my own psychology and relationship with money. This course changed the way I look at companies and functioning. All around, this is a beginner-friendly course and perfect for everyone and anyone who is willing to enter the markets or understand money.
